

SCOTLAND This collection includes photographs taken by George Gray on holidays in Scotland and abroad. Some of the photographs are simply entitled 'Beauties of the Scotch Coast'. These pictures were either donated to the Heritage Group or obtained from private collections. The photographs included in this collection are representative of life in rural Lanarkshire, providing a the viewer with a glimpse of the past and present in understanding the social, economical and environmental changes affecting Stonehouse through the ages. Further information on these photographs can be obtained by contacting the Heritage Group at 4/5 The Cross, Stonehouse (Public Library).
